

ABSTRACT

Online information (such as advertiser Web pages in conjunction with products lists, Web content, existing online ads, etc.), or an electronic version of 5 offline advertisement information, is used to generate online advertising information, such as a landing page, targeting information, and/or ad creative information.